WHEREAS, in October 2023, the Board adopted Local Law 3 of 2023 ("Local Law"), which Local Law incorporates significant amendments to the Zoning Code, and

WHEREAS, the Local Law includes various predicate approvals and application steps for businesses, including restaurants, that propose catering and/or entertainment as part of their operation, and

WHEREAS, existing businesses that seek to cater and/or entertain are required to obtain an entertainment permit from the Planning Board by filing an application and taking other required statutory steps as now outlined in Village Code §150-51, and

WHEREAS, as a condition of any such entertainment permit issuance, the approval of the entertainment permit is necessarily predicated on the business operation (including the entertainment/catering aspect) being in compliance with an approved site plan that includes the proposed/approved entertainment/catering ("Site Plan Approval"), and

WHEREAS, in accordance with the Local Law, a predicate step for Site Plan Approval may involve a pre-submission conference process, and

WHEREAS, the pre-submission conference procedure provides for a thorough and helpful guideline for a site plan application, but the process, when combined with each of the required statutory steps, including a final site plan application, may take a period of time, and

WHEREAS, as a consequence of the various procedures, it has become apparent that existing businesses may not be able to complete the entire site plan application process in time for their proposed entertainment operation during the upcoming peak summer season, and

WHEREAS, the Planning Board has recently approved certain initial entertainment permit applications for existing businesses conditioned on Site Plan Approval being completed and additional entertainment permit applications will be considered in the forthcoming weeks, and

- (c) The business must post and/or mail required hearing/conference notices in a timely manner;
- (d) The business must respond to all requirements of the Planning Board and Building Department in a timely manner.
